WELCOME, FIRST-TIME GUESTS!

Welcome to Trinity Church! We are so glad you're here today. We prayed this week that all who enter our doors would experience the life-changing, eternity-altering love of God through Jesus. ### TODAY AT TRINITY

9:00am Worship

The good news of Easter is that Jesus, the Risen King, is on the move! He's on the move out of the tomb and into the world—the everyday places where we live, work and play. And he commissions us, as his disciples, to be on the move with him! Today we continue our 5-week sermon series on Jesus's "Great Commission" (Matthew 28:16-20).

This morning Pastor Brian Keepers will explore what it means to make disciples "as we go" by teaching others to obey "everything I have commanded you" (Matt. 28:20). This is a call to help people experience transformation and grow up into their identity in Christ. We can't help others grow, however, unless we are continually learning and growing on this journey ourselves.

100 YEARS OF TRINITY

Do you know the history of Trinity's involvement with Tulip Festival? For several years Trinity has taken the festival as an opportunity to extend hospitality to the community and many visitors that come to town. Trinity's old downtown location on 3rd and Albany was ideal for visitors because it was so close to the various festival activities.

In 1952 Trinity's women's organization started hosting meals (at noon and evening) all three days of the festival as a service to the many visitors in town, especially those who arrived by bus. This also served as a fundraiser for mission projects that the women supported. Women were encouraged to serve at a meal and/or donate pies and a salad. In later years this was reduced to just one meal per day. This service continued for over 40 years until the city had more food vendors coming to town and more restrictions were applied to those serving food.

In 1976 Trinity had the idea to host an outdoor service on the Sunday morning following the festival. The hope was to provide a worship atmosphere where campers and carnival workers might feel more comfortable. This service was held in the band shell of Windmill Park and was such a success that the consistency voted it should be an annual event. Several years later, Orange City's ministerial association became involved and now almost every church in town participates.

Today Trinity hosts a Wednesday noon burger feed for the carnival workers. For several years Trinity has grilled outside the Windmill Park shelter and shared a meal with many workers as they prepare the carnival rides. This downtown location is convenient for the workers and the meal greatly appreciated.

Mission and hospitality have deep roots in Trinity's DNA, as is evidenced in these past and present service opportunities.

TRINITY STORY WALL

100 years. That's a long time. One hundred years of stories, experiences, individuals, and God's faithfulness in the life and ministry of Trinity. Whether you've been here from the start or you're relatively new, you have your own stories and memories of how God has been at work through Trinity. Let's share those stories with each other! It might be someone who was influential to you. It could be a memory of something as simple as green carpet. It might be an experience you had or a way in which your faith was formed. We invite you to visit the story wall (outside the sanctuary), take a slip of paper, write your memories, and pin them on the wall for others to see. We all have a story to share. What's yours?
