Connecting with God, others, and the world

WELCOME, FIRST-TIME GUESTS!

Welcome to Trinity Church! We are so glad you're here today. We prayed this week that all who enter our doors would experience the life-changing, eternity-altering love of God through Jesus. If you're here for the first time, please stop at the Welcome Center. We'd love the opportunity to meet you and we have a gift to say thanks for being our guest. Thanks for coming today!

TODAY AT TRINITY

9:00am Worship

10:30am Worship

Each day we live out our lives. Our stories. Just as those who came before us. Our role models. Our examples. Our heroes of the faith.

And the stories of these heroes of faith we read about in the Bible are connected to our stories now. They are all tied together and caught up in God's big story. God is the real hero in this big story, but we each have a part to play.

So let us fix our eyes on Jesus as we run the race set before us, remembering that our stories are part of a much bigger story. God's story is the story in which we all find ourselves.

Today Pastor Ben Vos, our Youth Ministry Director, will continue our series "God's Story, Our Story" as we look at the faith of Isaac, Jacob & Esau. Though they never experienced the promises God spoke to them, they could see with future-oriented eyes how the plan of God would play out for their children and grandchildren. And with boldness, each of them stood on the promises of God and proclaimed them over their descendants.

100 YEARS OF TRINITY

Did you know that one of Trinity's core values is missional engagement? Trinity has a long history of being deeply committed to God's mission—locally, regionally, and globally. Whether that's giving generously to our many mission partners, traveling frequently to key areas like Haiti and Uganda, or investing in the needs of our communities and region, our heart is to connect everyone at Trinity with God's work in the world through mission.

Trinity's commitment to missions has been evident from the beginning as there have been numerous times in the annual budget where benevolence spending (missions) was almost the same as the general fund, and on many occasions, it was more. As Trinity grew in the early 90s and space and staffing needs increased, that proportional giving was no longer feasible, but Trinity has remained one of the top missional support congregations in the RCA.

Trinity has sent groups to Kentucky, Montana, and Mexico, among many other places over the years. The youth group has traveled to Tennessee and Mexico—and in recent years, New Mexico, Mississippi, and Colorado.

Trinity's commitment to missionaries is long-term. There are at least two cases of second-generation support: Garold and Jean Van Engen, then daughter Betty and son Chuck. Also, Keith and Marcine De Jong and now son and daughter-in-law, Bruce and Tamar De Jong.

Ultimately, we affirm that every person is a missionary, sent to live a missional life in all the places where we live, work, and play. Whether that is locally, regionally, or globally—we are all invited to join God in mission in the world.

TRINITY STORY WALL

100 years. That's a long time. One hundred years of stories, experiences, individuals, and God's faithfulness in the life and ministry of Trinity. Whether you've been here from the start or you're relatively new, you have your own stories and memories of how God has been at work through Trinity. Let's share those stories with each other! It might be someone who was influential to you. It could be a memory of something as simple as green carpet. It might be an experience you had or a way in which your faith was formed. We invite you to visit the story wall (outside the sanctuary), take a slip of paper, write your memories, and pin them on the wall for others to see. We all have a story to share. What's yours?
